Mr. Clarence M. Kelly, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Kelley:

In March of this year I wrote to you concerning the analyses of bullet fragments and I have now obtained and read a copy of the publication to which you kindly refered me. After studying the technical data contained in that material, I have infered that it would not be possible to determine if two specimens, each with similar core and jacket composition, and with non identifiable markings for matching, were of the same caliber, lot or manufacturer. This is assuming the several fragments are rather small and mutilated. Would you say that I have a proper understanding of material?

Your kind reply will be very much appreciated.

Sincerely,

Emory L Brown, Jr.
